ALTIUM APPOINTS MR JOE BEDEWI AS CFO

Sydney, Australia - 15 March 2016 - Electronics design software company Altium Limited (ASX:ALU) has announced the appointment of Mr Joe Bedewi as its Chief Financial Officer (CFO). Prior to this appointment, Mr Bedewi was the CFO of Lattice Semiconductor (a NASDAQ listed company with over US$420 million in revenue) for a period of five years and for many years held executive financial leadership roles at Intel Corporation.

In welcoming Joe, Altium CEO, Mr Aram Mirkazemi, stated “Altium is fortunate to have secured the high-calibre services of Joe Bedewi as the company’s CFO. Joe’s deep knowledge and experience in technology companies with particular expertise in financial management, M&A, strategic planning and global operations will be an invaluable asset to Altium and its leadership team.”

Mr Mirkazemi further noted, “Altium has conducted a global search and met with a large field of candidates to find the most suitable CFO to bolster its executive and operational capacity in support of its ambitious long term strategic plans. Joe Bedewi will support our journey and bring a new level of capability as we execute on our business strategy to deliver PCB market leadership by 2020.”

The Board of Directors of Altium has welcomed Mr Bedewi’s appointment as CFO, with Chairman Sam Weiss stating, “I am delighted that Joe has joined Altium as our CFO. He brings a wealth of public company expertise and strong business acumen to the role. Joe’s experience with large global companies, operations, M&A and post-acquisition integration will add significant depth to our leadership team as we grow our business and continue to improve our financial performance.”

Mr Bedewi will be based at Altium’s headquarters in San Diego, USA.
